Your Industry

On a global scale, the perishables industry has demanding consumers who require a full range of products available year round. Therefore, a large responsibility is on the shoulders of the logistic provider to ensure that products are managed within the cool chain for the entire journey, ensuring product integrity, extending shelf life and minimizing wastage.

Panalpina's perishables industry focus provides a first-class logistics service with dedicated and passionate employees, a global network, and a responsive, agile and customer-centric approach.

We offer a fresh approach with flexible transportation and logistics solutions with many modes of transport to choose from, depending on urgency and consignment size. These include temperature-controlled air freight, ocean reefer freight, temperature-controlled road and courier services or a combination of the above. We offer value-added services such as cool chain management, consignment documentation and forwarding procedures that meet the industry's temperature and food safety requirements throughout the entire supply chain.

Our Team

We have a global network and specifically dedicated specialists focusing on the perishables sector to provide you with true "field-to-shelf" service. Our team members are committed to applying their skills and market know-how to make sure that your shipments arrive at the right place, at the right time and in the optimum condition, every time.

We look at new ways of providing tailor-made services and customized logistics solutions to help your business flourish and to keep your produce fresh.

At Panalpina, we believe that it's not enough to simply have a standard temperature regime anymore, as every product has its own specific transport requirements; we work hard to understand your product in terms of transportation and determine how we can manage that product throughout the entire cool chain to ensure product integrity and minimize wastage.

Panalpina's experts are ready to put their experience and passion to work to provide you with fresh solutions that meet your needs.
